

Module 3 Workbook — Design-Ready Content

"Your Deal Filter"

Purpose of this document: the finished, design-ready content for the Module 3 workbook. Uses the shared workbook design system established in Module 1 (cover block, section headers, input glossary, quick-win callout, reference callout, completion gate, footer). Only module-specific content is specified below.

Annotation key: [INPUT: ...] = fillable element + suggested space · [NOTE: ...] = design intent · unbracketed text = final on-page copy.

Cover Block

[NOTE: standard cover component. Progress dots 1–10 with dot 3 active.] - Course: The Complete Brand Partnership Playbook - Module 3 · Vetting Opportunities - Workbook: Your Deal Filter - Promise line: Run any opportunity through one clear filter — so you say yes with confidence, no without guilt, and "let's adjust" with a plan.

PART A — What Your Audience Trusts You For

[NOTE: short, anchoring opener. The whole filter exists to protect this one thing. Keep it to a single high-value prompt — sets the emotional stakes positively, not as dwelling on past mistakes.]

Your purpose line (on page): Your filter protects one thing above all — your audience's trust. Name it, so every decision has a reference point.

A1. In one line, what does your audience trust you for / come to you for? [INPUT: long box, 2 lines.] [NOTE: example placeholder, lighter weight: "Honest reviews of clean beauty products that actually work."]

PART B — The Opportunity Scorecard

[NOTE: THE core, reusable tool of this module. Design it so ONE scorecard = ONE deal, and make it easy to duplicate/reprint (a creator runs every opportunity through a fresh copy). Give it strong visual weight — ideally its own page. Flag the two deal-breaker criteria visually (e.g., a small icon or accent color).]

Your purpose line (on page): Score each criterion 1–5. The first two are deal-breakers — score them 1–2 and it's a no, regardless of the total.

B0. Deal being evaluated: [INPUT: short line — brand + offer.]

B1. The score [INPUT: scoring table, 6 rows. Columns: Criterion (printed) · Score 1–5 (number field) · Deal-breaker flag (printed icon on rows 1–2).]

Criterion	Score (1–5)
1. Values & content-style alignment (would my audience be surprised?)	[1–5]	► deal-breaker
2. I can authentically recommend it (I use/love it, or will test it)	[1–5]	► deal-breaker
3. My audience genuinely benefits / is interested	[1–5]
4. Fits my long-term brand direction	[1–5]
5. I'm comfortable being associated with the company	[1–5]
6. Audience fit (demographic + psychographic match)	[1–5]
Total (out of 30)	[computed field]

B2. Read your score [NOTE: interpretation band – visually distinct, like a key.] - 24–30 — Strong yes. Pursue it and price it well (Module 4). - 18–23 — Proceed, with a conversation. Identify the gaps below and address them before committing. - Under 18 — Likely a no. The fit isn't there. - Any ► deal-breaker scored 1–2 — Decline, regardless of the total.

B3. If you scored 18–23, what specifically needs to be addressed to turn this into a yes? [INPUT: long box, 2 lines.]

Reference/example callout [NOTE: muted box.] Example: A detox-tea brand offers double your rate. Values fit = 2, authentic recommendation = 1. Two deal-breakers in the danger zone → decline, no matter the total. The double rate is a trap, not an opportunity.

[NOTE: add a small line below the scorecard: "Make a fresh copy for every opportunity – this is a tool you'll reuse for the life of your business."]

PART C — Questions to Ask Every Brand

[NOTE: this is the reusable "Questions to Ask Every Brand" checklist asset. Design as a checklist with a capture field beside each, so it doubles as a notes sheet during a real brand conversation.]

Your purpose line (on page): Ask these before you commit — never after. Capture the answers here.

[INPUT: checklist, each with a fill field:] - ☐ Campaign goals & success metrics — awareness, traffic, conversions? what defines a win? [long box, 1–2 lines] - ☐ Creative freedom — how much input will I have? [short line] - ☐ Timeline — concepts due / review window / post date / revision rounds: [long box, 1–2 lines] - ☐ Usage rights — where, how long, paid ads? [short line] [NOTE: priced in Module 4] - ☐ Compensation — amount / schedule / method / when paid: [long box, 1–2 lines] - ☐ Exclusivity — competitors blocked?

how long? how defined? [short line] [NOTE: priced in Module 4] - ☐ Deliverables — exact count / platforms / formats / extras: [long box, 1–2 lines]

[NOTE: subtle line at foot: "Gathering these facts is the decision step – pricing and negotiating them comes in Modules 4–7."]

PART D — Audience Fit Check

[NOTE: two-layer side-by-side. Pull-forward from Module 1 audience snapshot – flag it. The psychographic row is the differentiator; give it equal or greater weight than demographics.]

Your purpose line (on page): Two layers. Demographics tell you if your audience matches on paper; psychographics tell you if they'll actually care.

D1. Demographics [INPUT: two-column compare. Left = "What the brand wants (target customer)", Right = "My audience (from Module 1)". 1–2 lines each.]

What the brand wants	My audience (from Module 1)
[fill]	[fill]

D2. Psychographics [INPUT: two-column compare, 2 lines each.]

What this brand stands for / promotes	What my audience values & is trying to solve
[fill]	[fill]

D3. Verdict: [INPUT: circle-one] Strong fit · Fits with the right angle · Mismatch D4. If "right angle," what angle makes it fit your audience? [INPUT: long box, 2 lines.]

Quick-win callout [NOTE: highlighted box.] Aligned deals don't just protect your trust — they perform better, which gets you rebooked and paid more. Picking the right deals is an offensive move, not just a defensive one.

Completion Gate

[NOTE: standard component.] You're ready for Module 4 when you've: [INPUT: 4 checkboxes:] ☐ Named what your audience trusts you for (Part A) ☐ Scored a real opportunity on the scorecard (Part B) ☐ Captured the brand-questions you still need answered (Part C) ☐ Run the two-layer audience-fit check (Part D)

Bring the opportunities that passed your filter — they're the ones worth pricing well in Module 4.
